If you're new to international dating, there are some things that will be useful to know about European women. It wouldn't hurt knowing some common and general characteristics of the ladies that you desire the most. One thing that unites all the girls from Eastern Europe is their independence. They are willing to work hard to achieve their ambitious goals, but they are able to do it in a way that doesn't leave their boyfriends or husbands feel threatened. If you don't think you can handle dating a woman who is too demanding in a relationship, you'll find the independence of these young women very refreshing.

You may have heard the stories of scams and Russian women asking for money or gifts on international dating sites, but you shouldn't be too worried about it. Trust your gut. Remember, you do want to meet the woman of your dreams, but you want to create a relationship that lasts.

Most women like receiving gifts, but European girls usually don't ask for anything. They'll appreciate it if you buy them flowers or a box of chocolate, but because they are financially independent, they won't rely on you to provide these things for them.

The beautiful Russian ladies also have quite liberal views with regards to marriage. They don't see it odd if a couple decides to live together before getting married. After all, getting to know each others' habits before committing for life is not a bad idea, especially if you've known one another previously only through emails or chats. The young ladies won't also mind getting married quickly, if you two feel like you've known each other for ages and that you are meant for each other.

Be ready to be active and have a busy lifestyle as these women love sports and outdoor activities more than anything. Mountain climbing, hiking and swimming are just some of the things that you can bond over.
